TABLE OF CONTENTS

Toward a Taxonomy of Distributed Learning Delivery Modes ................................................................. 1
M’hammed Abdous, Old Dominion University, USA

Developing Home-grown E-learning Packages for Distant Learners: a Nigerian Experience .................. 23
Oliver Anowor, Leonard Anigbo, Uzoamaka George-Okafor, Enugu State University of Science and Technology, Nigeria

Techno-literacy and learning in blended, multicultural course environments........................................ 29
Edilson Arenas, CQUniversity, Australia; Julianne Lynch, Deakin University, Australia

Creating Simple Educational Gaming Activities for Online Delivery ...................................................... 39
Matthew Bacz, McGill University, Canada

Publishing Captivate Instructional Videos for Mobile Delivery ................................................................. 40
Matthew Bacz, McGill University, Canada

A Survey on Robotic Educational Platforms for K-12 .............................................................................. 41
Taha Ben Brahim, Daniela Marghitiu, John Weaver, Auburn University, USA

Measuring Learning Outcomes and the Quality of Instructions with Interactive Performance-based Assessments .................................................................................................................................................................................. 49
Fawzi BenMessaoud, Wonderlic, USA

From Research to Practice: The Development of an Integrated Faculty Development Program .......... 56
Paula Bigatell, Lawrence C. Ragan, Shannon Kennan, Janet May, Penn State University, USA

Collaborative Team-Based Approach to Online Course Development ..................................................... 58
Mark Campbell, Drexel University, USA

Interactive Microbiology Laboratory for Online Training ......................................................................... 62
Jiaytan Chen, Michigan State University, USA

Best Practices in Establishing a Team-based Approach to the Instructional Design of Online Courses .......... 63
Lorraine Chiarelli, KnowledgeOne, Canada

How digital media and Internet is transforming education ..................................................................... 69
Jenny Chien, University of Denver, USA

A Review of the Design and Development Process to Innovate Online Learning for Young Adults .... 78
Quincy Conley, ASU, USA; Renee Pilbeam, ASU Online, USA; Robert Christopherson, Angela Barrus, ASU, USA

Unified Next Generation Learning Platform in Support of Blended Health Learning Communities and Collaboration ............................................................................................................................................................................. 83
Corey Cooke, Kishore Metla, Signature Consulting Group, USA

Unified Next Generation Learning Platform in Support of Blended Health Learning Communities and Collaboration ............................................................................................................................................................................. 90
Corey Cooke, Kishore Metla, Signature Consulting Group, USA

Opening Up the Classroom: Why and How You Might Try a Bit of Virtual Team Teaching! ................. 97
Sharon Coyle, CEGEP Sept-Îles, Canada; Nathan Loeven, Vanier College, Canada

Hybrid Learning Model: Best Practice in Doctoral Level Learning .......................................................... 102
Elizabeth Crawford, UT Chattanooga, USA

Does This Course Make My Content Look Big? The Skinny onChunking Content ................................. 109
Liz Crowell, University of Central Oklahoma Center for eLearning and Continuing Education, USA; Andrea Stone, Oklahoma State University - Oklahoma City, USA

An exploration of geospatial technology as a mechanism for college students’ scientific and mathematical understanding of the ecological and economic trade-offs of urban planning .................................... 110
Dennis DeBay, Youjin Lee, Michael Barnett, Jim Haley, Boston College, USA; Amy Anderson, Placeways, USA

Understanding Transformative Learning through Designing and Developing Transformative Experiences... 118
Aaron Doering, Univ of Minnesota, USA; Charles Miller, University of Minnesota, USA

Integration of Microsoft Producer and Adobe Visual Communicator 3 in a Technology Literacy Methods Class: Advantages and Disadvantages ............................................................................................................................................................................. 130
Larry Ferguson, Turquoise Wilder, Norfolk State University, USA

Playing, teaching and tracking e-learning in science education .............................................................. 134
Jeremy Friedberg, SpongeLab Interactive, Canada

Using Blended Learning as a Delivery Model for In-house Staff Language Courses ............................. 135
Manon Gaddoits, Jean-Paul Remillieux, McGill University, School of Continuing Studies, Canada

Choosing the Right eLearning Tool ............................................................................................................ 136
Joe Ganci, eLearning Joe, USA

The Top 10 Blunders in Creating eLearning .............................................................................................. 152
Joe Ganci, eLearning Joe, USA

Using real-time authentic online learning scenarios to teach criminal intelligence analysis ................. 162
Natasha Giardina, Peter Bell, Queensland University of Technology, Australia

How do stroke patients learn best? ............................................................................................................. 164

Natasha Giardina, Peter Bell, Queensland University of Technology, Australia
A Model for Developing Quality Graduate Programs in Nursing Education Utilizing both Blended and Online Courses
Amy Grincewicz, College of Mount St. Joseph, USA

Designing STEM Education Online Courses for Students with Special Learning Needs
Amy Grincewicz, College of Mount St. Joseph, USA

Linking Social Networking with Quality Content: Collaborative Professional Development for Teachers
Sarah Haavind, Lesley University, USA

Pedagogical Impact of Daily Game Playing in Online Courses
Kenneth Henderson, Barbara Lyons, Morehead State University, USA

Analysis of Ease of Reading Text in Browser by Changing Fonts
Hiroo Hirose, Takeshi Tsuchiya, Tadashi Miyosawa, Tokyo University of Science, Suwa, Japan; Michihiro Amagasa, Hokkai Gakuen University, Japan

Bits and Pieces: Classification for In-house Production and Curation of Digital Learning Materials
Helge Hoivik, Oslo and Akershus University College, Norway

Interactive Publishing: An Educational Pressure Cooker
Helge Hoivik, Oslo and Akershus University College, Norway

A Curatorial Approach to E-Learning Using QR-coding as Example
Jingru Hoivik, National Library of Norway, Norway

Library Digital Exhibition in the Pocket – Case Studies
Jingru Hoivik, National Library of Norway, Norway

Beyond Logging In: Examining Strategies in Building An Online Learning Community In Graduate Education
Rebecca Hong, Biola University, USA

Using Web-Conferencing Technology to Enhance Business Simulations
R Hubbard, Marshall School of Business - University of Southern California, USA

Creating Supplemental Materials: Successful Lessons Learned
Heather Johnson, Eric Aurand, Leslie Johnson, Michelle Lis, Kaplan University, USA

Space Matters: Making Sense of Place in Online Learning
Hiroko Kanoh, Yamagata University, Institute of Arts and Sciences, Japan

The Developmental stages of mobile network use –Existence of the rule about mobile phone–
Eun-Jee Kim, Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology, Korea (South)

Promoting Parent Involvement to Support Children’s Intellectual, Social, Behavioral and Emotional Development through Web/Mobile Technologies
Seung Kim, Lewis University, USA; Megan Crawley, Eastview Elementary School, USA

Community in Online Learning: Do Students think it is Necessary?
Judy Lambert, The University of Toledo, USA

Cool Tools You Can Use In and Out of the Classroom: Ipad Apps and More
Denise LeGrand, University of Arkansas at Little Rock, USA

Designing an Effective Orientation to the Online Environment
Michelle Leon, Pima Medical Institute, USA

Creating OER for Versioning: Experts and Learners as Knowledge Contributors
Marcelo Fabián Maina, Lourdes Guaría Ortiz, Universitat Oberta de Catalunya, Spain

A Mobile Augmented Reality Gymkhana For Improving Technological Skills And History Learning: Outcomes And Some Determining Factors
Sergio Martín, Gabriel Diaz, Electrical and Computer Engineering Department, Industrial School of Engineering (UNED), Spain; Marta Cáceres, Center for Virtual Education (CSEV), Spain; David Gago, Center for Virtual Education (CSEV), Spain; Maria Gibrat, Center for Virtual Education (CSEV), Spain

Administration of Electronic Portfolios In Off-campus Graduate Programs
Ann Martincelli, Eric Malm, Marcus Mandy, Cabrini College, USA

An E-Portfolio System Supporting Evidence-based Assessment and Student’s Self-development in Teacher Promotion Courses
Toshiki Matsuda, Tokyo Institute of Technology, Japan

Development of a digital multimedia book for career education and media literacy
Keita Matsushita, Jissen Women’s University, Department of Humanities and Social Sciences, Japan

An Interactive Digital Game of International Business: Design and Development
Mary Ann Mengel, Penn State University, USA

Technology Integrated Pedagogical Documentation: Early Childhood Teachers Beliefs and Practices
Gladys Milimu, Marina Papic, Macquarie University, Australia

Enhanced Through Technology Based Professional Learning and Support Program

Transforming Teaching; Mathematical Content, Pedagogy and Technology, a Messy Problem! .............................................................. 288
Maria Mitchell, Central Connecticut State University, USA

Learning Reinforcement - Product/Services Showcase - Corporate Demonstration ................................................................. 294
Susan Morin, Omniplex, Canada

iDEAL Assessment ................................................................................................................................................................................. 295
Kimberly Greene, Jennifer Murphy, Brandman University, USA

The Virtual Classroom: Technology Enhanced Learning in Academic Environments ................................................................. 297
Peggy Ng, Brian Gaber, York University, Canada

The Impact of E-learning and M-Learning on Tertiary Education ................................................................................................. 303
Hiroyuki Obah, Kazunari Ito, Stephen Lambacher, Aoyama Gakuin University, Japan; Yuihiko Kogure, Musashino Gakuin University, Japan; Tadayoshi Kaya, Gakushuin Women's College, Japan; Hiroshi Furukawa, University of Tsukuba, Japan

A networked learning approach to introducing blended simulation based medical education in a UK National Health Service (NHS) Trust ........................................................................................................................ 313
Gale Parchoma, Lancaster University, United Kingdom; Jacky Hanson, Lancashire Teaching Hospitals National Health Service Trust, United Kingdom; Armineh Shahoumian, Lancaster University, United Kingdom; Mike Dickinson, Mark Pimblett, Alison Quinn, James Wilson, Lancashire Teaching Hospitals National Health Service Trust, United Kingdom; Maria Zenios, Lancaster University, United Kingdom

Teaching with Digital Technologies: A Case Study Using TPACK .................................................................................................. 315
Pamela Phillips, Roberta F. Hammett, Lisa St. Croix, Gerry White, Memorial University of Newfoundland, Canada

English as a Foreign Language and ICT for Distance Learning in Educational Sciences: Pedagogical Choices and Language Risk-Taking Opportunities ........................................................................... 316
Joséphine Rémon, University of Lyon, France

Instrumented modelling and preliminary conceptions in three-dimensional dynamic geometry with geogebra-3D ........................................................................................................................................................................... 322
Philippe R. Richard, Université de Montréal, Canada; Mathieu Blossier, Institut de Recherche sur l’Enseignement des Mathématiques de Rouen, France

Defining Communication Competency in Computer-Mediated Environments: E-learning Solutions and Challenges ........................................................................................................................................................................ 331
Renee Robinson, Julie McNellis, Saint Xavier University, USA

2ReleaseID: A Model for Rapid Online Course Development ........................................................................................................... 338
Joel Rodriguez, Stephanie Sutcliffe, Drexel University, USA

The ItemBuilder: A Graphical Authoring System for Complex Item Development ........................................................................... 344
Heiko Röike, DIPF, Germany

Developing narrative modules that foster critical thinking and interdisciplinary learning using a Drupal-based framework ........................................................................................................................................................................... 354
Rémi Rousseau, Emmanuel Cadet, Richard Pinet, Steve Rokeby, University of Ottawa, Centre for e-Learning, Canada; Pippa Hall, Division of Palliative Medicine, University of Ottawa, Canada; Susan Bruton, School of Nursing, University of Ottawa, Canada; Enkenyelsh Bekele, Palliative Care Education & Research, Élysée Bruyère Research Institute, Ottawa, Canada; Lynda Weaver, Bruyère Continuing Care, Ottawa, Canada

A Reality of a Triad: Interactive Whiteboard, You Tube and Instructional Setting ......................................................................................... 365
Christine Sabieh, Notre Dame University, Lebanon

BEAT: an AContent extension to support authors in developing learning pathways ................................................................................. 371
Paola Salomoni, Luigi Guerra, Catia Prandi, Luca Ferrari, Silvia Mirri, Stefania LOVE, University of Bologna, Italy

Online behaviour of social media participants’ and perception of trust, comparing social media brand community groups and associated organized marketing strategies ........................................................................................................... 379
Klaus Schmidt, Illinois State University, USA

Bloom’s Taxonomy: Application of Theory to e-learning ........................................................................................................................................................................ 385
Jodi Senk, Pepperdine University, USA

Showcasing an employability e-forum for social science students at Glasgow Caledonian University, Scotland........................................................................................................................................................................... 389
Kiril Sharapov, Glasgow Caledonian University, United Kingdom

Designing To Engage: Design Principles For Blended Learning Communities In Higher Education ................................................................. 395
Emily Sheppy, Stefan Krueger, Haritos Kavallios, Concordia University, Canada

Computer Tests that Teach Math ........................................................................................................................................................................... 400
Larry Sher, Patricia Wilkinson, Nancy Passantino, Borough of Manhattan Community College, USA

Development of Schema Priming Test Application on Mobile Device to Evaluate Knowledge Using Abilities of Students ........................................................................................................................................................................... 406
Akira Shimazoe, Kazuhisa Seto, Masahiko Okamoto, Osaka Prefecture University, Japan

The lure of creating, producing and sharing of videos on YouTube: a case of a pedagogical entertainer........................................................................... 412
Sara Sintonen, Olli Vesterinen, Heikki Kynälähti, Jarkko Mylläri, University of Helsinki, Finland

Aligning design, production and delivery of eLearning with learning science ........................................................................................................ 419
Brenda Sugrue, Eric Ellefsen, Kaplan Inc, USA
Does Learner Control Help Online Learners Improve Their Self-efficacy? A Study in an Authentic Online Setting.......................................................... 420
Wichaporn Taipujiatus, Sally Hansen, Mark Brown, Massey University, New Zealand

Implementing Storyboards: Transforming Resistance into Return on Investment .......................................................... 426
Roxanne Toto, The Pennsylvania State University, USA

Building an Ontology for Student Models of English As Second Language Essays: A Synthesis of Literature and Results of Development of Topic Map Indexes........................................................................ 432
Kathryn Urbaniak, Vivek Venkatesh, Concordia University, Canada

Using the reality of the classroom as a prototype for a learning platform ........................................................................ 439
Glenn Vermeiren, Koen Laurent, Kathleen Van Landeghem, Felix Mertens, Debra De Pryck, CVO Antwerpen, Belgium; Koen DePryck, CVO Antwerpen & Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium

The Genre of Instructor Feedback in Doctoral Programs: A Corpus Linguistic Analysis........................................... 444
Kelley Jo Walters, Walden University, USA

Online Course Success: Adapting Course Design to Focus on Learning........................................................................ 448
Jeremy Wendt, Stephanie Wendt, Tennessee Tech University, USA

Development and Initial Validation of an Innovation Assessment........................................................................ 450
Geoff Wright, Jacob Wheadon, Brigham Young University, College of Engineering, USA

Designing Online Course Components to Infuse Computational Thinking in Computer Science........................................................................ 459
Li Xu, Bettel Czerkawski, University of Arizona South, USA

Impact of Using Facebook as a Social Learning Platform to Connect High School Students with Working Adults ........................................................................ 465
Yuhei Yamaguchi, Toru Fujimoto, Kaoru Takahashi, The University of Tokyo, Japan; Junko Araki, Sanno University, Japan; Yusuke Otsuki, Hisashi Suzuki, Benesse Corporation, Japan

Assessing Online Learning with Digital Audio and Video........................................................................ 473
Stephen Arnold, University of Arizona South, USA

E-Government Implementation Factors: A Conceptual Framework........................................................................ 480
Olusoyi O Richard Ashaye, Zahir Irani, Brunel University, BBS, Kingston Lane, Uxbridge - Middlesex UB8 3PH, United Kingdom

Rethinking the ePortfolio: A Pilot Study to Determine the Impact Web 2.0 Tools on Reflection and Teacher Development........................................................................ 490
Brian Baldwin, Katie Almiz, Maggie Redling, University of Houston, USA

Incorporating Social Oriented Agent and Interactive Simulation in E-learning: Impact on Learning, Perceptions, Experiences to non-Native English Students........................................................................ 495
Melvin Ballera, Mosbah Mohamed Elssaedi, Sirt University, Libya

Distance Education and E-Learning for Maternity Care Nurses: Promoting the Importance of Breastfeeding... Changing Culture!........................................................................ 504
Chantal Bastien, Ano Deoram-Rampersaud, Concordia University, Canada

Using content analysis to identify and quantify higher-order interaction in asynchronous online discussion (AD)........................................................................ 508
John Boatright, St Catherine University, USA

Instructor’s Use of Student Feedback to Manage an Online Course........................................................................ 514
Marius Boboc, Selma Vonderwell, Cleveland State University, USA

Secondary school students’ evaluation of computer tools and their patterns of use related to their language literacy........................................................................ 518
Li-Ling Chen, California State University at East Bay, USA

Implementing a Comprehensive Model of Online Student Support Services for Online Learning Environments526
Odette Bourjaili Radi, La Trobe University, Australia

Integrating iPad in a Special Education Class: A Case study........................................................................ 530
Chantal Bastien, Ano Deoram-Rampersaud, Concordia University, Canada

Blogging: an engaging E-Learning tool in adult education........................................................................ 535
Debra De Pryck, Jeroen Hendricks, Liesbeth De Paepe, CVO Antwerpen, Belgium; Koen DePryck, CVO Antwerpen & Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium; Glenn Vermeiren, CVO Antwerpen, Belgium; Kathleen Van Landeghem, CVO Antwerpen, Belgium

Making a Blog Work as an engaging E-Learning Tool in Adult Education........................................................................ 539
Debra De Pryck, Jeroen Hendricks, Liesbeth De Paepe, Kathleen Van Landeghem, Glenn Vermeiren, CVO Antwerpen, Belgium

Qualitative Findings from Usability Testing of an E-learning Tutorial........................................................................ 545
Ruth de Villiers, Daphne Becker, University of South Africa, South Africa

Project based vs. subject based distance learning........................................................................ 556
Koen DePryck, CVO Antwerpen & Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium; Lat Lippeveld, Center for Adult Education ’De Oranjerie”, Belgium

Integrating ICT into Higher Education at the University of Moncton: A Qualitative Inquiry of Onsite vs. Online Students’ Perceptions ........................................................................ 557
Gerard Fillion, Jean-Pierre Booto Ekionea, University of Moncton, Canada
Integrating ICT into Higher Education at the University of Moncton: A Quantitative Investigation of Onsite vs. Online Students’ Perceptions .......................................................... 567
Gerard Fillion, Jean-Pierre Booto Ekionea, University of Moncton, Canada

Lessons learned from the development of an e-circle for munipalities .................................................. 577
Kerstin Grundén, Per Flenzberg, University West, Sweden

Documenting Experiential Learning in Higher Education: The Case for Digital Mashups .................. 586
LeighAnn Forbes, Robin Quick, Gannon University, USA

Exploring Online Formative Assessment Using Repertory Grid Technique via Facebook .................. 591
Nobuko Fujita, Faculty of Education, University of Windsor, Canada; Chris Teplovs, Problemshift Inc, Canada

A New Presentation System for Interactive Works with Students ....................................................... 598
Elena Gramatova, Slovak University of Technology, Slovakia (Slovak Republic)

Improving the appetite for learning with SALT: Social Sales Training in Retail Banking .................. 604
Joachim Hasebrook, zeb/rolfe.schierenbeek.assoc, Germany; Sibyll Rodde, Steinheis University Berlin, Germany

Utilizing Online Technologies To Effectively Facilitate Data Gathering In Large-Scale Qualitative Research 611
James Hatten, Laurene Christensen, National Center on Educational Outcomes, USA

Using Cloud-Based Collaborative Documents to Perform Continuous Formative Assessment During Instruction .................................................. 612
Norman Herr, Mike Rivas, Brian Foley, Matthew d’Alessio, Virginia Vandergon, California State University, Northridge, USA

E-Observation of E-Learning Removes the Guesswork from Didactic Analyses .................................. 616
Hans Hinterberger, Barbara Scheuner, ETH Zurich, Switzerland

Game-based Learning: An Assessment Challenge ................................................................................. 625
Jennifer Jenson, York University, Canada

Exploring the Use of Laptops in Higher Education: An Analysis of Benefits and Distractons ........... 630
Robin Kay, University of Ontario Institute of Technology, Canada

Experimental Evaluation Results of a Game Based Learning Approach for Learning Introductory Programming .................................................. 636
Cagin Kazimoglu, Mary Kiernan, Liz Bacon, Lachlan MacKinnon, University of Greenwich, United Kingdom

Evaluation and Categorization of Educational Videos ............................................................................. 648
Line Kolås, Robin Munkvold, Hugo Nordseth, Nord-Trøndelag University College, Norway

Evaluation of multimedia transport Protocols for distance medical education using the Wideband InterNetworking satellite ................................................................................................. 658
Takeshi Konishi, Battulga Bayanmunkh, Department of Medical Informatics, Institute of Health Biosciences, University of Tokushima Graduate School, Tokushima, Japan, Japan; Makoto Tagi, Hospital Information Center, Tokushima University Hospital, Japan, Japan; Yoko Tamura, Department of Medical Informatics, Institute of Health Biosciences, University of Tokushima Graduate School, Tokushima, Japan, Japan; Yu Tamaki, Hospital Information Center, Tokushima University Hospital, Japan, Japan; A. Ammar Ghaibeh, Department of Medical Informatics, Institute of Health Biosciences, University of Tokushima Graduate School, Tokushima, Japan, Japan; Kenichiro Shimai, Hospital Information Center, Tokushima University Hospital, Japan, Japan; Hiroki Moriguchi, Department of Medical Informatics, Institute of Health Biosciences, University of Tokushima Graduate School, Tokushima, Japan, Japan

Learnings From Post-Secondary Students on E-Learning Accessibility and Accessibility Evaluation Methods 663
Kari Kumar, Ron Owston, York University, Canada

Utilization of e-Portfolio to Support Student Life: Preparation of Standards on Living Activities by Students 670
Sumiko Kurata, Hiroyuki Tanaka, Sumio Koike, Haruko Sakai, Shoko Sasaki, Tokyo Kasei Gakuin University, Japan

Exploring Adult Learner Experiences in a Collaborative Online Environment ....................................... 676
Lydia Kyei-Blankson, Illinois State University, USA

The Effect of a Faculty Professional Development Model on Pedagogical and Philosophical Approaches to Teaching Online .......................................................... 681
Lydia Kyei-Blankson, Illinois State University, USA

Interactive Whiteboard Technology: Promise and Reality ................................................................. 685
Benjamin Kaykendall, The Charter School of Wilmington, USA; Michael Janvier, Isaac Kempton, CS Dept., The Charter School of Wilmington, USA; David Brown, CS Dept., The Charter School of Wilmington, USA

TLC: Technology, Language and Content Working Together. A Research in the Field with a Double Perspective .......................................................... 691
Vincent Leone, Catholic University of Milan, Italy

Self-Management of Learning Trajectories by Students: E-Portfolio in the Hong Kong Institute of Education 697
Chunchen Lin, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies, Japan

Compare with different education method for real time long distance language education ................. 698
Chunchen Lin, Tokyo University of Foreign Studies, Japan

Using wiki for within and between group collaboration and collective knowledge building ............... 699
Yiping Lou, University of South Florida, USA

Social Matching for Health Researchers ............................................................................................. 700
Diego Macrini, Heidi Sveistrup, University of Ottawa, Canada
Portfolio Assessment in Teacher Education: Use of e-portfolios ................................................................. 710
Aradhana Mani, Delhi University, India

Design and Development of a Web-based Support System for Teaching and Learning of Business-IT
Alignment Assessment .............................................................................................................................................. 711
Haleh Mardanian, Peter Mozellus, Stockholm University, Sweden

Which Online Courses Should I Take? Improving Student Decisions about Online Course Enrollment ...... 721
James Marshall, San Diego State University, USA

Meeting the E-Learning and Information and Computer Technology Needs of Post-secondary Students with Visual Impairments: An Overview of Two Studies .......................................................................................... 726
Natalie Martinelli, Mary Jorgensen, Catherine S. Fichten, Jennison Asuncion, Vittoria Ferraro, Adaptech Research Network, Canada; Joan Wolforth, McGill University, Canada; Mai Nhu Nguyen, Jillian Budd, Maria Barile, Adaptech Research Network, Canada; Chris Gaulin, National Educational Association of Disabled Students (NEADS), Canada; Anthony Tibbs, Adaptech Research Network, Canada; Rhonda Amsel, McGill University, Canada

Build your Responsive Open Learning Environment ....................................................................................... 731
Alexander Mikroyannidis, The Open University, United Kingdom

Responsive Open Learning Environments at the Open University ................................................................. 737
Alexander Mikroyannidis, Teresa Connolly, The Open University, United Kingdom

The Evaluation of Adaptive Technology Enhanced Learning Systems ...................................................................... 744
Catherine Mulwa, Trinity College Dublin, Ireland

Clarifying the Meaning of Quality in E-learning Quality Assurance ..................................................................... 754
Anne Parrella, Tidewater Community College, USA; Yanyan Yong, Germanna Community College, USA

Do Your E-Learning Assessments Belong in the Cloud? ................................................................................. 767
Jeff Place, Questionmark, USA

Embedding Surveys and Quizzes for Enhanced Learning ................................................................................ 768
Jeff Place, Questionmark, USA

Get the Most from Mobile Assessments ........................................................................................................... 769
Jeff Place, Questionmark, USA

Validating the Matrix Marking System for NHS Simulation-based Medical Education Assessment .......... 770
Alison Quinn, James Wilson, Mark Pimblett, Mike Dickinson, Jacky Hanson, Lancashire Teaching Hospitals National Health Service Trust, United Kingdom

Realizing Best Practices in an Online Graduate Degree Program .......................................................................... 776
Thomas Smyth, University of South Carolina Allen, USA; Cheryl Wissick, University of South Carolina Columbia, USA

Defining Online Course Quality .......................................................................................................................... 779
Andrea Stone, Oklahoma State University - Oklahoma City, USA; Elizabeth Crowell, University of Central Oklahoma, USA

Readiness of Selected National Capital Region Universities in the Integration Of Information Technology in Major Accounting Subjects in Bachelor of Science in Accountancy: Basis for Program Enhancement ...... 780
Irene Taguinod, St. Paul University Quezon City Bocoe Extension, Philippines

Asynchronous Feedback - An Activity Theory Model .......................................................................................... 786
Judy Tarbox, Southern Connecticut State University, USA

Support Experience for Video Conferencing Distance Classes ........................................................................ 791
Judy Teng, Albany College of Pharmacy and Health Sciences, USA

Intergenerational Participatory Design with Physical Interaction ....................................................................... 792
Helena Tobiasson, Anders Hedman, Yngve Sundblad, Kungliga Tekniska Hogskolan, KTH, Sweden

Web Versus Face-to-Face Tutorials: Why I Didn’t Go To Class In My Pyjamas .................................................. 802
Bruce Tsuij, Andrea Pierre, Department of Psychology, Carleton University, Canada; Patricia Van Roon, Department of Neuroscience, Carleton University, Canada; Corrie Vendetti, Department of Psychology, Carleton University, Canada

A Blended Approach to Canadian First Nations Education: The Sunchild E-Learning Community ............. 807
Norman Vaughan, Mount Royal University, Canada; Martin Sacher, Mavis Sacher, Sunchild E-Learning Community, Canada

Investigating How Digital Technologies Can Support A Triad-Approach For Student Assessment In Higher Education............................................................................................................................................................. 815
Norman Vaughan, Mount Royal University, Canada

Investigating the role of mobile devices in a pre-service teacher education program ............................................ 822
Norman Vaughan, Kimberly Lawrence, Mount Royal University, Canada

The impact of Instructor Intervention Style on Student Activity in Asynchronous Online Learning Discussion
Boards.................................................................................................................................................................. 831
Jim Waters, Cabrini College, USA

Most Appealing e-Learning Site for Language Learning .................................................................................... 841
Taku Yamagishi, Graduate School, Hokkaido University of Education (Asahikawa), Japan; Hiroki Ishizuka, Hokkaido University of Education (Asahikawa), Japan

Approaches and Challenges to Optimizing the Use of the Electronic Health Record in Primary Care .......... 852
Wan-Lin Yang, Nancy Pandhi, Zaher Karp, Alexander Young, John Beasley, Sally Kraft, Pascale Carayon, University of Wisconsin-Madison, USA
Media Tablets in Educational Practice: What can we learn? ........................................................................... 859
Anita Zijdemans Boudreau, Pacific University, College of Education, USA

A Steppedladder Towards Critical Thinking: Student Assessment and Instructional Redesign ...................... 862
Caroline Akhras, Notre Dame University, Lebanon

Knowledge Management and Information Literacy: Are Business Students Well Positioned? ................. 870
Caroline Akhras, Notre Dame University, Lebanon

Leveraging Technology to Enhance Online Learning for Corporate and Academic Environments .......... 882
Patricia Banyas-Stewart, Paul Freedolino, Michigan State University, USA; Donna Freedolino, Plante & Moran, PLLC, USA

Using iPads to Enhance Pre Service Teachers’ Reflection Skills: A Pilot Study ........................................ 888
Lorraine Beaudin, University of Lethbridge, Canada

An Organized Practice of Effective Methods for Hybrid Graduate Programs at the Doctoral Level .......... 893
Dustin Bessette, National Graduate School, USA

A Moodle federated Digital Learning Environment at UQAM ................................................................. 894
Gilles Boulet, Marina Caplain, Jean-François Tremblay, Université du Québec à Montréal (UQAM), Canada

Social Constructivism and Professional Development for Online Teachers .............................................. 898
Michael Cannel, LEARN Quebec, Canada

EFL Mixed-Level Classes and Emerging Technologies at University Level: a Case Study ...................... 899
Giovanna Carloni, University of Urbino, Italy

Rapid Instructional Design Strategies for Developing Online Courses: Implementing a Re-usable Learning Object Approach .................................................................................................................. 905
Huei Lien Chen, Greta Steher, Colorado State University, USA

The Relationship between Academic Abilities and Internal/External Thinking Styles on Digital Game Flow Experience ................................................................. 911
I Hua Chen, Yu-Ting C Yang, Wan-Chi Wu, Wei-Chun Chiang, National Cheng Kung University, Taiwan

Texting for Increasing Parental Involvement and Student Performance ..................................................... 919
Li-Ling Chen, Alex Pakter, California State University at East Bay, USA

The Application of KB to the Cultivation of Normal Students’ Ability of Instruction Design .................... 928
Xiaohui Chen, Xiaoxuan He, Northeast Normal University, Changchun, Jilin province, China, China

A Distance Second Chance. Effects of E-Adult Education on Social Inclusion ............................................ 941
Koen DePryck, CVO Antwerpen & Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium; Rebecca Nuys, Hilde Van Laer, CVO Antwerpen, Belgium

Online Supervision of School Counseling Interns: Using Technology to Connect with Graduate Student Interns ........................................................................................................................................ 951
David Dietrich, The University of Tennessee at Martin, USA

Earthducation: Employing Video Narratives to Track the Intersections between Education and Sustainability in Climate Hotspots Worldwide .................................................................................. 952
Aaron Doering, Charles Miller, Cassie Scharber, Jeni Hendrickson, University of Minnesota, USA

Self-paced and Social................................................................................................................................. 962
Jon Dron, Athabasca University, Canada

Mathematics Online! Issues and Solutions ..................................................................................................... 977
Marcella Elliott, The College of The Bahamas, Bahamas

Beyond Best Practices: A New Vision for Online Mathematics Teachers .................................................. 980
Barbara Fedock, Elizabeth Young, University of Phoenix, USA

U-Learning for Global English: A Case Study on Mobile-Assisted ESL Learning ...................................... 991
Jennifer Florida, La Consolacion College Manila, Philippines

Supporting Learning of an Unfamiliar Authentication Scheme................................................................. 1002
Alain Forget, Sonia Chiasson, Robert Biddle, Carleton University, Canada

eLearning with Video Avatars .......................................................................................................................... 1012
Mindy Frisbee, University of Oregon, USA

Virtual communication to serve communication rights in face to face encounters. The case for on-line creation communities as life-long learning resources for interpreters ........................................ 1013
Sofía García-Beyaert, Universidad Autónoma de Barcelona, Spain

Development of a Virtual Patient Nursing Model – toward sharable pedagogical designs in medical education 1018
Carina Geor, Maria Jirve, Dept. of Neurobiology, Care Sciences and Society (NFS) Division of Nursing; Karolinska Institutet, Sweden; Nabil Zary, Dept. of Learning, Informatics, management and Ethics (LIME), Sweden

Blended Learning in Teaching English for Academic Purposes (EAP) to Students with Learning Disabilities: the Use of Assistive Technology (AT) and E-Learning in Promoting Proficiency in Reading Comprehension Abilities among Students with Learning Disabilities .......................................................................................... 1022
Edith Gotesman, Miri Krisi, Ashkelon Academic College, Israel

Building Capacities for Graduate Level Online Constructivist Teaching and Learning: A Promising Approach for Education Reform .................................................................................................. 1029
Diane Gregory, Texas Woman's University, USA
Enhancing Online and Face-to-Face Teaching with Social Networking Sites and Digital Literacy Activities
Robertia Hammert, Memorial University of Newfoundland, Canada; Lisa St. Croix, Cathy Wicks, Memorial University, Canada

Best Practices for Embedding Librarians in Online Courses
Kelly Heider, Indiana University of Pennsylvania, USA

Share the Cost, Maximize the Return
Curt Hill, Susan Pfieffer, Valley City State University, USA; Diane Keller, Colette Schmitz, Dakota College at Bottineau, USA; Marlin Allery, Turtle Mountain Community College, USA; Heidi Schneider, Jason Brandvold, Lake Region State College, USA; Ken Quamme, Williston State College, USA

Faculty adoption of critical thinking as a grading criterion in online discussions
Wei-Ying Hsiao, University of Alaska Anchorage, USA; Manfen Chen, University of Southern Indiana, USA

Enhancing Online and Face-to-Face Teaching with Social Networking Sites and Digital Literacy Activities
Wei-Ying Hsiao, University of Alaska Anchorage, USA; Manfen Chen, University of Southern Indiana, USA

Using e-learning course and book library for staff development across the global duty station of the United Nations
Jingbo Huang, Maria Hutchinsion, Andreas Lange, Charissa Villamayor, Anastassia Perelman, Salena Brown, United Nations, China

Vocabulary Learning with Mobile Technology: What Students Learn and How They React
Hsien-Ting Hung, National Kaohsiung First University of Science and Technology, Taiwan; Yu-Chuan Joni Chao, Providence University, Taiwan

Possibility of Learning Support Activity with ICT in Japanese Higher Education
Chiaki Ishida, Ochanomizu University, Japan

Generating Adaptive Materials in a 3D Virtual World
Hiroki Ishizuka, Hokkaido University of Education, Japan

ONE-CONCEPT VIDEOS, iPADS, ‘FLIPPED’ CLASSROOMS, AND HOW TO CREATE, DEPLOY AND MAKE WORK THESE NEW TOOLS AND METHODOLOGIES
Brian Kahn, Richard Thornley, United Nations International School, USA

Toward Building an Effective Support System for Online Instructors: An Initial Investigation from Multiple Perspective Approach
Eun-Jee Kim, Korea Advanced Institute of Science and Technology, Korea (South)

Self-Regulation and the Mental Representation-Based Task Analysis: A Case Study in a Web-Based Course
Jackie Hee-Young Kim, Armstrong Atlantic State University, USA

Online Learning and Promoting Assessment
Selma Koc Vonderwell, Cleveland State University, USA; Xiongyi Liu, University of Maine, USA

Teaching Content Area Reading Creatively using an eBook
Dianne Koehnecke, Webster University, USA

Institutional Collaboration
Suzanne Labonte, Paulette Bouffard, Wendy Love, Michel Singh, La Cité collégiale, Canada

Labo VTE: A Year of Online Learning Labs
Laurence Lachapelle-Bégin, Vitrine technologie-éducation, Canada

Applying Activity Theory of Mobile Learning to Context-Aware Smartphones
En-Shiun Annie Lee, University of Waterloo, Canada

Baby GaGa, Sir Mixalot, and Hiaku: An App Developer’s Social Networking Story
Robert Leneway, Western Michigan University, USA; Kevin Leneway, Gaint Thinkwell, USA

Becoming an E-Publication Institution of Higher Education: Developing a Model for Faculty Development
Robert Leneway, Western Michigan University, USA

Developing Emoticon Support Tool Based on Emotional Affordance to Facilitate Peer Feedback in Online Collaborative Learning
Cheolil Lim, Taeyung Park, Wonjoon Hong, Department of Education, Seoul National University, Korea (South)

“Geeking Out” with iPads: Undergraduate instructors discuss their experiences during the first year of a large-scale tablet initiative
Alison Link, Alfonso Sintjago, Mary McKay, University of Minnesota - Twin Cities, USA

Assessment in the E-Learning Environment
Kimberly Livengood, Mary McGlamery, Meghan Seibert, James Summerlin, Angelo State University, USA

E-Learning Experiences using Avatars and 3D Virtual Worlds: The Case of the University of Guadalajara in Mexico
Alejandro Lopez Rodriguez, UNIVERSITY OF GUADALAJARA, Mexico

In With The Old And Out With The New—Technical Support for Non-Traditional Online Students
Marisa Low, Goodwin College at Drewel University, USA

The Pre-Professional Program in Speech-Language Pathology: An Online Curriculum Developed to Address a Professional Personnel Shortage
Christina Luna, Kean University, USA

An Electronic Portfolio for Teachers: Design and Preliminary Assessment
Reconciling Instructional Development's Design Principles with Neuroscience Findings of Brain Function

Instructional designers call on many authorities as they make design decisions in answering the important question: What is the best way to teach this? .......................................................... 1401
Anne Bednar, Eastern Michigan University, USA

High Fidelity Prototype of the Digital Process Book Learning Tool for Design Students in Higher Education:
Design and Usability Results .......................................................................................... 1407
Lori Brunner Stone, Stefan Ganchev, Abigail Lundquist, Iowa State University, USA

Does technology-mediated learning matter for effective teams? ........................................... 1416
Leonardo Caporarello, Giacomo Sarchioni, SDA Bocconi, Italy

The Business of Instructional Design: Strategies for Workplace E-Learning .............................. 1423
Jason Caudill, University of Tennessee, USA; Barry Reeves, Tatano Mantis Cranes, USA

A Review of Web-based Learning Management System Design on Higher Education .................. 1428
Chih Hung Chung, Laura A. Pasquini, Jeff M. Allen, Chang E. Koh, University of North Texas, USA

DL Course Management 101: Key Strategies to Keep Your Online Courses from Managing You .......... 1437
Andy Curran, University of Cincinnati, USA

Hooked by Phishing: Addressing the Need for User Education in Identifying Phishing Emails Through an Anti-Phishing Game .......................................................... 1440
Tenzin Doleck, Columbia University, USA

Remote Laboratory in Education: WebLab-Deusto Practice ....................................................... 1445
Olga Dziabenko, Pablo Ordutia, DeustoTech – Deusto Institute of Technology, University of Deusto, Spain; Javier Garcia-Zubia, Ignacio Angulo, Faculty of Engineering, University of Deusto, Spain

PowerPoint’s Impact on Conference Ratings and Social Media Likes ........................................... 1455
Nathan Garrett, Woodbury University, USA

DIY Online Programs: An Alternative to Third Party Vendors ..................................................... 1463
Xavier Gomez, University of San Francisco, USA

Proposal for Method of Formal Description of Teaching E-portfolios for Lesson Studies ................ 1464
Yasuake Hatanaka, Yasuhiko Marimoto, Tokyo Gakugei University, Japan; Shoichi Nakamura, Fukushima University, Japan; Youzou Miyadera, Tokyo Gakugei University, Japan

Why Adventure Works in (Technology-Enhanced) Education ...................................................... 1473
Jeni Hendrickson, Aaron Doering, Charles Miller, University of Minnesota, USA

Using iPads to Enhance Teaching and Learning in Third-Year Medical Clerkships ....................... 1482
Janette Hill, The University of Georgia, USA; Michelle Nuss, GHSU-UGA Medical Partnership, USA; Bruce Middendorf, St Mary’s Hospital, USA; Ronald Cervero, University of Georgia, USA; Julie Gaines, GHSU-UGA Medical Partnership, USA

E-Learning Aboard Air Canada: A breakthrough process to develop blended training in five months ........ 1489
Caroline Huebner, Ellicom, Canada

Teachers Perceptions of the Need for Training in Using Assistive Technology ................................. 1495
Jennifer Hune, Raschel Hastings, University of Arkansas at Little Rock, USA

Instructional Design Considerations for Mobile Assisted Language Learning .................................. 1500
Robert Isaacson, Kara MacDonald, N/A, USA

Anchoring Authentic Learning Activities in an Authentic Narrative .............................................. 1504
Suzane Koseoglu, Aaron Doering, Nesrin Bakir, University of Minnesota, USA

Analysis of Lesson using Interactive Environment for Learning by Problem-Posing in Elementary School Arithmetic .................................................................................. 1511
Megumi Kurayama, Hiroshima University, Japan; Masayuki Murakami, Kyoto university of ForeignStudies, Japan; Tsukasa Hirashima, Hiroshima University, Japan

Supporting the Thesis Writing Process: A Preliminary Study of Barriers to Start a Thesis project ........ 1518
Ken Larincco, Dept of Computer and Systems Sciences, Stockholm University, Sweden

The positive impact of authentic communication in distance second language acquisition ............... 1525
De Paep Liebes, CVO Antwerp, Belgium; DePryck Koen, CVO Antwerp & Vrije Universiteit Brussel, Belgium; Jeroen Hendricks, CVO Antwerp, Belgium

Development of Instructional design model for Collaborative videoconferencing ............................. 1535
Cheolil Lim, Seoul National University, Korea (South); Hyekyung Kim, Kyung Hee University, Korea (South); Sunhee Kim, Dongho Kim, Hyeoun Lee, Seoul National University, Korea (South)

Assessing and Building Science Inquiry Skills in Middle School Earth Science Classrooms ................ 1541
Yiping Lou, University of South Florida, USA; Pamela Blanchard, Louisiana State University, USA

Avenue: Innovation and Transformation in World Language, Reading, and Writing E-Assessment ........ 1547
Charles Miller, Lucas Lecheler, Elizabeth Maddy, University of Minnesota, USA

Promoting Active Learning: The Community of Inquiry Approach to Designing Synchronous e-Learning... 1562
Yufeng Qian, Dartmouth College, USA

Instructional Design in Higher Education: Unifying Expectations and Responsibilities ....................... 1567
Adrienne Salentiny, University of North Dakota, USA
Introducing a Blended Networked Learning Approach into Simulation Based Medical Education (SBME): A Collaborative Interdisciplinary Approach to Project Development .......................................................... 1574
Armineh Shahoumian, Lancaster University, United Kingdom

Sense of Community, Perceived Learning, and Self-Regulation: Do they matter to online students? ........ 1576
Robin Spruce, Old Dominion University, USA; Robe Lucking, Old Dominion University, USA

What's New in Integrating Synchronous (Real-Time) Instruction into a Fundamentally Asynchronous Online Curriculum - The Example Provided by University of Maryland University College .............................................................. 1582
James Stewart, University of Maryland Univ. Collage, USA

Faculty Use of Course Management Systems: A Continuing Report .......................................................... 1588
Barton Thurber, Jack Pope, Shahrzade Moshkhat, University of San Diego, USA

Learning Support Specification, Based on Viewpoint of Knowledge Management ........................................ 1596
Toyohide Watanabe, Nagoya University, Japan

Measuring sense of community and student motivation in an online teacher preparation program ............... 1606
Mervyn Wight, Gail Derrick, Regent University, USA; Robin Spruce, Old Dominion University, USA

E-Learning and Copyright Law: An Overview of What We Need to Know .................................................. 1619
Rebecca Butler, Northern Illinois University, USA

Examining pre-service teachers' perceptions on uptake of digital storytelling for classroom use .......... 1621
Agnes Chigona, Janet Condy, Daniela Gachago, Eunice Ivula, Cape Peninsula University of Technology, South Africa

Technology-mediated Professional Learning ............................................................................................... 1629
Susan Gibson, University of Alberta, Canada; Charmaine Brooks, Educational Consultant, Canada

Historical thinking as Applied Epistemology: Developing historical thinking in social studies methods courses via critical inquiries of Wikipedia entries ........................................................................ 1634
Thomas Hammond, Lehigh University, USA

Survey of Current Practice With Geospatial Tools in Teacher Education ................................................ 1644
Thomas Hammond, Lehigh University, USA

Emotion Regulation in Online Learning Environments .................................................................................. 1647
Jackie Hee Young Kim, Armstrong Atlantic State University, USA

Monitoring User Experiences in Collaborative Learning Environments: A Systematic Mapping Study ...... 1652
Francisco Medeiros, Alex Gomes, UFPE, Brazil; Gabriela Medeiros, UFPE, Brazil

Knowledge management concepts in healthcare environment ................................................................. 1660
Helvi Nyerwanire, Erja Mustonen-Ollila, Lappeenranta University of Technology, Finland

Social network and peer education: an experience in a road safety education project .................................. 1669
Elena Pacetti, University of Bologna, Italy

Educational Videogames Data Base (EVDB): A pedagogical on-line resource for teachers and students. 1675
Alessandro Soriani, University of Bologna - Facoltà di scienze della Formazione, Italy

Collaborative Formative Assessment Using Web 2.0 Technologies .............................................................. 1680
Claudius Spellmann, Mark Dixon, University of Plymouth, United Kingdom; Udo Bleimann, Hochschule Darmstadt, Germany; Ray Jones, University of Plymouth, United Kingdom

Incidental Learning and Salience in Virtual Worlds ...................................................................................... 1686
Wayne Thomas, Patricia Boeckher, Erik de Jong, Eleni Strouila, Matthew Delaney, University of Alberta, Canada

Perceptions of Technology Use and Course Effectiveness in the Age of Web 2.0: A Large-Scale Survey of Québec University Students and Instructors ......................................................... 1691
Vivek Venkatesh, Jihan Rabah, Concordia University, Canada; Magda Fusaro, Annie Couture, Université du Québec à Montréal, Canada; Wynnpaul Varela, Kristopher Alexander, Concordia University, Canada

Instructor's Participation in Online Discussions ............................................................................................. 1700
Yu-mei Wang, University of Alabama at Birmingham, USA

Where Technologies Collide: A Technology Integration Model .................................................................. 1701
Christa Wilkin, Cristina Rubino, Deone Zell, Lois Shelton, California State University, USA

Teacher's Role in Japanese High School: A Priority Supporting Guardians against Cyberbullying and Online Risks ................................................................................................................................. 1712
Hirohiko Yasuda, Shimoseki Technical High School, Japan; Kanami Yasuda, Fukuoka College of Business, Japan

Media Tablets in Educational Practice: Guiding Participatory Action Research within a Community of Practice ................................................................................................................................. 1718
Anita Zijdeman Boudreau, Pacific University, College of Education, USA

Possibilities of Local Identity Platform: The Role of ICT to Pass Down Local Culture .................................. 1719
Noriko Karata, Graduate School, Chuo University, Japan; Yuko Karata, Kansai Gaidai College, Japan; Masakazu Ohashi, Chuo University, Japan

e-Learning and the University: An Examination of Policy Implications on Educational Leadership .......... 1725
Sharon Oake, Brock University, Canada

The Perception of Distance Education ............................................................................................................ 1730
Juan Paviroredjo, Virtual Educa, USA; Koen DePryck, VUB, Belgium

Ecologies for Open Learning: TOOLS at the University of Windsor ............................................................ 1734
Fatemeh Alipanahi, Islamic Azad University, Zanjan Branch, Iran (Islamic Republic Of); Hossein Parvini Sani, Islamic Azad University, Zanjan Branch, Iran (Islamic Republic Of)

Being-in a Learning Management System: Online Teachers and the Ethic of Care .................................................. 1894
Ellen Rose, University of New Brunswick, Canada; Catherine Adams, University of Alberta, Canada

Pan-Quebec Survey of the Practices, Competencies, Attitudes, Benefits and Challenges Inherent in the Use of ICTs by 25,661 Post-Secondary Students ............................................................................................................. 1902
Normand Roy, Université du Québec à Trois-Rivières, Canada; Bruno Poellhuber, Université de Montréal, Canada

Comparing Computer and Mobile Phone Use by American and Japanese University Students .................... 1912
Douglass Scott, Waseda University, Japan; Yuuki Kato, Sagami Women’s University, Japan; Shogo Kato, Tokyo Woman’s Christian University, Japan; Song Liu, Waseda University, Japan

The Value and Acceptability of an Online Degree in Hiring Gatekeepers’ choice for Employment in the Multimedia Production Industry ............................................................................................................................. 1918
Renee Sinow, Lydia Kyei-Blankson, Illinois State University, USA

Cyber Security Awareness Survey of non-IT College Students.............................................................................. 1928
Ludwig Slusky, Parviz Partow-Navid, California State University - Los Angeles, USA

Relational analysis of adults’ online medical information referencing and their medical information commitments .......................................................................................................................................................... 1936
Chin-Chung Tsai, National Taiwan University of Science and Technology, Taiwan

Exploratory Study of Cross-Cultural Engagement in the Community of Inquiry: Instructor Perspectives and Challenges .......................................................................................................................................................... 1942
Viviane Vladimirschi, E-connection, Brazil

Student Leadership Characteristics in Online Community College Courses - Dissertation Summarized...... 1948
Elsa Waters, Jet Propulsion Laboratory, California Institute of Technology, USA

Social Networking Services in E-Learning........................................................................................................... 1955
Peter Weber, Fachhochschule Südwestfalen, Germany; Hannes Rothe, Freie Universität Berlin, Germany

The Effectiveness of Cloud Health Promotion Environment on Senior High School Students’ Physical Activity, Physical Behavior Change, and Academic Achievement...................................................................... 1966
Wan-Chi Wu, Ya-Ting Yang, I-Hua Chen, Wei-Chun Chiang, National Cheng Kung University, Taiwan

Note: a Tool for Asynchronous Quantitative Content Coding ........................................................................... 1970
Daniel Zingaro, University of Toronto, Canada

Comparing Computer and Mobile Phone Use by American and Japanese University Students .................... 1974
Yen-Lin Chiu, Chin-Chung Tsai, National Taiwan University of Science and Technology, Graduate Institute of Digital Learning and Education, Taiwan; Jyh-Chong Liang, National Taiwan University of Science and Technology, Graduate Institute of Applied Science and Technology, Taiwan

Internet Perceptions and Practices of European and American University Students ........................................ 1985
Klaus Schmidt, Paul Brauchle, Illinois State University, USA; Renato Guimaraes, ICM Business School, France

Social Media and Privacy: Comparing U.S. and Japanese College Students’ Use of Facebook and Twitter 1996
Peng-Yu Tung, Douglass Scott, Waseda University, Japan

Free Tools And Systems For Open And E-Learning ......................................................................................... 2007
Sarah Al Amsry, ium, Malaysia; Nazirah Binti mat sin, Mansvr Asmrml, MMU, Malaysia

E-Learning evolution: Next Steps Semantic web and foundations of E-learning ........................................... 2012
Abdulaziz Alkaeij, Paul Krause, University of Surrey, United Kingdom; Abbas Strommen-Bakhtiar, University of Nordland, Norway

Building Collaborative International Learning Experiences using Social Networking Services .................... 2022
Betul Czerkawski, Max Lieberman, The University of Arizona, USA

Planning on iPad .................................................................................................................................................... 2026
Jacques Garand, Systamex Software inc., Canada

Intuitive Digital Circuit Design and Simulation ..................................................................................................... 2027
Katarina Jelemenská, Jakub Polák, Tomáš Masaryk, Michal Behiu, Pavel Cicak, Slovak University of Technology in Bratislava, Slovakia (Slovak Republic)

Development of a learning support system for adult learners’ self-regulated learning in e-learning environment.......................................................................................................................................................... 2037
Cheollim Lim, Sunhee Lee, Xiao Li, Dong Ho Kim, In Hyeong Choi, Seoul National University, Korea (South)

Enhancement and Evaluation of the Counting Function of the Digital Fortune Line System toward Supporting Science Learning .................................................................................................................................. 2044
Sakiko Nakashin, Etsuji Yamaguchi, Kobe University, Japan; Hideo Funaoi, Soka University, Japan; Mami Murakami, Shigenori Inagaki, Kobe University, Japan

The system providing consecutive learning environments synchronizing with result data on Moodle ............ 2050
Toru Ochi, Hirohara Dekihara, Hiroshima International University, Japan; Hiroki Fukumitsu, Okayama Health Coop, Japan; Hideaki Tsuchiya, The University of Electro-Communications, Japan; Toshiya Mashima, Ryuji Miyazaki, Hiroshima International University, Japan

Can Learn Statistics! Converging Assessment and Practice in an Individualized Classroom ......................... 2055
Deniz Palak, North Carolina University, USA

Scaffolding with Schema for Creating Presentation Documents and Its Evaluation

Yasuo Shibata, Akihiro Kashihara, Graduate School of Informatics and Engineering, The University of Electro-Communications, Japan; Shinobu Hasegawa, Research Center for Distance Learning, Japan Advanced Institute of Science and Technology, Japan

Development of an E-Portfolio System to Cultivate Problem-solving Ability during Master’s Thesis Study

Zenichiro Shimada, Toshiki Matsu, Tokyo Institute of Technology, Japan

Development of a discussion supporting system for understanding student states by exchanging teacher awareness

Yuki Taniguchi, Kazuhiro Seta, Masahiko Okamoto, Osaka Prefecture University, Japan

Mobile-ready Question-Posing and Peer-Assessment Environment based on Moodle

Yoshio Yamagishi, Takuya Miyakubo, Kanazawa Institute of Technology, Japan